Mia's Bean Signs

1. Mia planted bean seeds in small cups. She wrote a label for each cup. Her letters sat on the line, and each word had a clear space. Soon, the class could read every label.
2. On Tuesday, Mia checked the cups before math. The soil looked dry, so she watered it. Then she made a sign that said, "Bean plants need water." The sign used neat words and a period.
3. By Friday, green sprouts curled above the soil. Mia added a new sentence to her sign: "Our beans are growing." Her classmates read the sentence quickly because the letters, spaces, and end mark were easy to see.
