YOUR JOB Underline one fact from the flyer and one from the librarian, then circle the class's own thought to help plan a talk.

What We Learned at the Library

1. Our class visited the town library to learn how it helps neighbors. We read a flyer that listed a free story time on Tuesday. We also asked a librarian what people can take home to read.

2. The librarian said people can borrow books with a library card. We chose this fact and the story time fact for a short talk to another class. We planned to share our own thought at the end.

3. Our talk began, "The library helps our neighbors read." We told our listeners about Tuesday story time from the flyer and borrowing books from the librarian. We ended with our thought: "The library is a good place for families to spend time together."
