1 READ AND MARK

Read it twice

YOUR JOB Underline every source detail in the model list, then circle the first word of each entry. These marks show what you need to create and alphabetize a Works Cited page.

Making a Works Cited Page

1. When you research a report, you may use a book, a website, or a magazine. Keep a source note as you learn. Write the author, title, publisher or website name, date, and web address when there is one. These details help you make a Works Cited page. The page tells readers where your information came from.

2. Put the Works Cited page at the end of your report, on its own page. Give it the heading Works Cited. List each source you used, even if you used only one fact from it. Put entries in alphabetical order by the first word of each entry. If an entry has no author, begin with its title.

3. For a practice report, these made-up source details create this model list.

   Works Cited

   Allen, Rosa. Wetland Builders. Pine Road Press, 2023.

   "Beaver Homes." Forest Friends Online, www.forestfriendsonline.example/beavers, accessed 6 June 2026.

   The Allen entry comes first because Allen is alphabetically before Beaver. Notice that a book entry and a website entry need different details to be complete.
