Cards for the Wall

- ① On Monday, Ms. Reed placed blank name cards on a table. Nia chose a blue card and wrote her name in cursive. She left a small space between her name and a tiny star. The card would hang above her hook.
- ② At another table, Carlos made a card for the class garden. He wrote his name in cursive and added a green leaf beside it. Then he checked that his letters sat on the writing line. His card would help visitors find his plant.
- ③ Before cleanup, Nia and Carlos looked at the cards with Ms. Reed. They saw Zoe's card near the window. The three cards used clear letters and careful spaces. Soon, the class wall held many bright name cards.
