HOW TO RUN THIS PAGE

Read each situation and its choices aloud. Students circle a word, then use the spoken sentence frame to share an idea or need with a partner in a complete sentence.

Students never read directions on this sheet. Read each part's script aloud, then each prompt, giving think time before students mark.

PART 1 • CIRCLE AND TALK

SAY “Listen to each situation and the choices. After you circle a word, can you turn to your partner and say the whole sentence?”

|-----|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| a   | You feel thirsty. The choices are help, water, and turn. Which word completes the sentence, “I need ____,” and which word will you circle? After you circle, how can you say the whole sentence to your partner?                                                   | water    |
| b   | A story made you laugh. The choices are funny, pencil, and water. Which word completes the sentence, “I think the story was ____,” and which word will you circle? After you circle, how can you say the whole sentence to your partner?                           | funny    |
| c   | Your partner finishes speaking, and you want to speak next. The choices are water, turn, and help. Which word completes the sentence, “I would like a ____,” and which word will you circle? After you circle, how can you say the whole sentence to your partner? | turn     |

PART 2 • TALK STARTS

SAY “Trace each gray word. Pick one traced word. What complete sentence can you say to your partner that starts with that word?”

- Box 1: I
- Box 2: My
- Box 3: Please

WHAT TO ACCEPT

Part 1 answers are water, funny, and turn. Accept complete spoken sentences that clearly share the intended need or idea, and accept accurate tracing of I, My, and Please.
